

JSF 1

1 Getting Started with JSF

Introducing the “Hello world” Application

Installing Eclipse

Installing JBoss

Installing a JSF Implementation

Installing Web Beans

Creating the “Hello world!” Application with JSF

Generating Dynamic Content

Retrieving Data from Java Code

Exploring the Life Cycle of the Web Bean

Using an Easier Way to Output Text

Debugging a JSF Application

2 Using Forms

Developing a Stock Quote Application

Getting the Stock Quote Symbol

Displaying the Result Page

Displaying the Stock Value

Marking Input As Required

Inputting a Date

Conversion Errors and Empty Input

Using a Combo Box

Using a Single b2 Bean

Hooking Up the Web Beans

3 Validating Input

Developing a Postage Calculator

What If the Input Is Invalid?

Null Input and Validators

Validating the Patron Code

Creating a Custom Validator for the Patron Code

Displaying the Error Messages in Red

Displaying the Error Message Along with the Field

Validating a Combination of Multiple Input Values

4 Creating an E-shop

Listing the Products

Making the Link to Show the Details

Displaying Headers in the Columns

Implementing a Shopping Cart

Displaying the Content of the Shopping Cart

The Checkout Function

Getting the Credit Card Number of the Current User

Forcing the User to Log In

Implementing Logout

Protecting the Password

5 Creating Custom Components

Displaying a Copyright Notice on Multiple Pages

Allowing the Caller to Specify the Company Name

Creating a Product Editor

Passing a Method in a Parameter?

Creating a Box Component

Accepting Two Pieces of XHTML Code

Creating a Reusable Component Library

Creating a Component Library Without taglib.xml

6 Providing a Common Layout for Your Pages

Using the Same Menu on Different Pages

Using Global Navigation Rules

Using Two Abstract Parts

Creating Page-Specific Navigation Cases